

A Navy Reserve Officer Iraq War Veteran and Candidate for the 63rd Assembly District Will Address a Local Business Group Monday, January 25th

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, CA Jan.21 Iraq War Veteran, Dr. Paul Chabot, a Navy Reserve Lieutenant Commander (select) and candidate for the 63rd Assembly District will address the Inland Valley Business Alliance's Ultimate Business Connection Monday, January 25th at 11:30 a.m., at Antonino's Ristorante Italiano in Rancho Cucamonga.

Dr. Chabot's topic will be "Resiliency the Complex Nature of Criminal Organizations Survival Skills: What Good Businesses Can Learn from Evil Enterprises."

He began his military career in 2001, serving first at the Office of Naval Intelligence, later with the Defense Intelligence Agency, in conjunction with an assignment in the Pentagon working for the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the National Military Command Center assessing immediate national security threats. He recently returned from serving in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom with Special Operations Forces. Today, Paul serves with the U.S. 3rd Fleet conducting homeland security exercises. He currently holds the rank of Lt. Commander (select), with the United States Navy Reserve.

Paul has over 14-years of law enforcement experience; serving as a Reserve Deputy Sheriff for the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department with specialized assignments to the narcotics and street gangs division. Paul also served full-time with USC police at the University of Southern California.

Immediately prior to his campaign, Paul was appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate as Commissioner to the State Parole Board for three consecutive terms. He is proud of his strong public safety record and dedication to protecting California's communities by keeping dangerous criminals behind bars.

Paul had the privilege of interning for Congressman Jerry Lewis and was later selected for the Nation's prestigious Presidential Management Fellowship Program working for the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy. He was promoted to White House Senior Advisor for Law Enforcement, Justice and Drug Control Programs. During his nearly 6-years in the White House, he completed two rotational assignments, one with the U.S. Attorney's Office in Los Angeles targeting methamphetamine production and one later with the U.S. State Department Office of Inspector General, assessing counterterrorism and counter-narcotics programs.

Dr. Chabot has founded several organizations dedicated to his passions to promote American values, youth guidance and the deterrence of substance abuse including; Stars and Stripes United, Inc. (www.starsandstripesunited.com), the Freestyle Foundation, Inc. (www.freestylefoundation.org), the Inland Valley Drug Free Community Coalition (www.ivdfc.org), and the Coalition for a Drug Free California (www.drugfreecalifornia.org) a state-side collaborative organization of law enforcement, government and volunteers dedicated to preventing the sale and abuse of illegal drugs. He performs a number of pro-bono speaking programs for youth, through his website (www.drchabotconsulting.com).

He holds a B.A. in administration from California State University at San Bernardino, a M.A. in public administration from the University of Southern California, and a doctorate (Ed. D) in executive leadership from George Washington University. Paul holds a certificate in legislative studies from Georgetown University and is a graduate and guest lecturer of the Delinquency Control Institute at the University of Southern California. Significant presentations include keynotes at the U.S. Naval Academy, West Point Academy, as well as a number of White House conferences, nationwide.

His work combating terrorism has been published within military journals and on-line military training sites. His dissertation work examined methods for dismantling high level criminal organizations. Paul is currently writing a book exploring the dynamics of the Mexican drug cartel resiliency and its implications, titled Without Remorse.
